

Michigan League of Academic Games

The academic games

Equations: A mathematics game created by University of Michigan Law Professor Layman Allen in the mid 1960's.

On-Sets: Similar to the popular card game, "Set," this game involves Set Theory, where students must find groups of colors using set operations.

Linguishtik: An English Grammar game, where students must find a word, and place it into a particular type of sentence.

On-Words: A game involving spelling, counting, grammar, phonetics, word roots, inflectional endings, prefixes and suffixes

Presidents: An American History game that tests students' knowledge of the American Presidents, and the events that happened during their presidencies.

Propoganda: Students learn to recognize and understand different techniques of persuasion.

Wff N' Proof: A game of symbolic logic where students must construct proofs to prove logical arguments that they create.

World Card: Students must research a particular topic and create a reference book to be used in competitions.

The state results

Winning Ann Arbor teams from March 2010 state competition. National competition will take place April 23-26 in Cincinnati, Ohio.
